Moving from Planning to Implementation: Key Elements of Environmental Change Success
August 28, 2013
9:00 am – 2:30 pm
Sierra Health Foundation
This training is being conducted by:

Training Objectives:
- Reinforce key learning objectives from training workshop #1: Primary Prevention for Change
- Recognize the importance of policy, systems and organizational practice change strategies to improve opportunities for living healthy lifestyles
- Understand key elements in planning policy and organizational practice change efforts, including developing a policy strategy, building a base of key partners, backing up your case and planning for implementation
- Gain tools, resources and knowledge to engage in policy and organizational practice changes

9 a.m. Welcome and Overview

The “How” of Policy and Organizational Practice Change — Part I
This session will explore steps one and two of a four-part framework for working on policy and organizational practice change strategies, including fundamental issues such as developing a policy goal and a base of support through key partners.

Break

10:40 a.m. Collaboration Multiplier Activity
This activity focuses on both the vision and the nuts and bolts of effective multi-disciplinary collaborations. Participants will be led through a tool that will offer organizations a framework for understanding each other’s perspectives and delineating strengths and gaps in their partnership.

The “How” of Policy and Organizational Practice Change — Part II
This session will explore steps three and four of a four-part framework for working on policy and organizational practice change, including backing up your case and planning for implementation and evaluation.

12:15 p.m. Lunch

12:45 p.m. Panel Discussion: Local Policy Successes at Home
This interactive panel of local policy advocates from Sacramento County will discuss how they have engaged in policy and organizational practice change in Sacramento.

2:15 p.m. Closing and Evaluation
Please submit your meeting evaluation form – Thank You

The Healthy Sacramento Coalition is made possible by funding from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.